E-BULLETIN 39 – 22 JANUARY 2010

Two totally different events have been organised by Morlan's Programme Committee for next week – and we hope you will be able to support both of them, or tell others about them.

LIGHT A CANDLE OF HOPE

12.00-2.00, Wednesday, 27 January

To mark Holocaust Memorial Day 2010, Morlan is offering a space for quiet contemplation and a chance to light a candle for the victims of genocides, and as a symbol of hope for the future. The theme of the 2010 Holocaust Memorial Day is Legacy of Hope and it also marks the 60th anniversary of the liberation of Auschwitz-Birkenau. We all have an opportunity to become part of the Legacy of Hope, by listening to the voices of the survivors and using their hopes and memories to shape our lives and create a better future. Call in during your lunch break – stay for a few minutes or longer. All are welcome.

You can also light a virtual candle on the Holocaust Memorial Day website – click here.

WHILST MANKIND EXISTS SO WILL FARMING

A talk by Elin Jones, AM as part of the exhibition *Life on the Land

7.00, Friday evening, 29 January

The exhibition consists of 20 panels of photographs and bilingual text depicting all aspects of Welsh agricultural life since the end of the 19th century, and how these aspects have changed over time. It can be seen at Morlan from next Monday until 26 February. We will be celebrating the exhibition and the importance of farming in Wales on 29 January with a talk (in Welsh) by Elin Jones. This will be an informal evening – a chance to enjoy the exhibition over a cuppa and a chat. Admission is free – all are welcome. Thanks again to the National Library of Wales for the loan of this exhibition.

The other events taking place here during the following fortnight are noted below.
